Type
Symposium

Track
Post 2015 development agenda

Topic
Economic arguments: Art. 6, crosscutting

Description
Economics provide a rich framework for measuring the impact on the tobacco epidemic and for evaluating and understanding the impact of tobacco control measures such as the WHO FCTC. This symposium brings together leading experts in the economics of tobacco control to present and discuss recent findings across a broad range of topics from an economic perspective: tax/price policies, including the impact of tax structure of effectiveness of those policies, non-price policies, globalization and development issues, and the economic impact of tobacco control.

Target audience
All conference attendees.

Objectives
1. To learn about recent research on taxation policies in tobacco control
2. To learn about the impact of the non-price policies (e.g. health warnings, smoke-free laws) on demand for tobacco products
3. To learn about globalization of the tobacco industry and the implications for tobacco control
4. To learn about the importance of tobacco control in development
5. To learn about approaches for understanding the economic impact of tobacco control
